

What Does the Automox Agent Access on a Device?

Last Modified on 10/12/2020 12:44 am EDT

The Automox agent has very limited access to the device and is not natively capable of accessing or removing data or files from it. Compared with other tools like Airwatch and others that have control of the camera, access to the mic, and can intercept data in transit, that is not the intended functionality of Automox. Automox is not as invasive as other tools and can only add/update/delete software and configuration settings.
